"We're committed to the Clean Cars, Our Customer's Health, and a Non-Contaminated Environment"

- ❑ As an Initiative of Liv India Group which is already successful in delivering high quality car wash services PAN India through Franchisee Network of "SPEED CAR WASH" makes us a value-driven company committed to bringing vehicle owners everywhere a superior line of car care services that do not harm the planet or the user. We offer services that meet and exceed the performance expectations of our customers.

Present Scenario

Car owners in India today primarily have two options for preventive maintenance services:

- ❑ Authorized Service Centres of car manufacturers
 - Have large infrastructure, in terms of real estate, staff, overheads etc., and they pass the high costs of all this on to the car owners who have to settle for heavily overpriced services.
- ❑ Independent Garages & Roadside Garages
 - While the roadside garages offer cheaper services, they are a highly unorganised sector, usually with labour that is not adequately trained on the ever-increasing and technologically advanced brands and makes of cars today.

In both the cases the problems of shoddily done jobs, lack of professionalism, lack of transparency in operations are aplenty. Long wait periods, to get an appointment and to get the job done; at the authorized service centres are also very common.

In short People want an alternative and “We Provide It”

Why anybody who has a Car needs COZI CARS!!

- ❑ Why go to a service station?
 - ✓ When your car can be serviced at your home/office in front of you.
- ❑ Why pay more?
 - ✓ All of us know where car dealerships make the most money (In Servicing). If you can get the same service at much lesser costs, who cares for the dealers.
- ❑ Why wait?
 - ✓ No more waiting at the service stations for your car to be given to you. Your car will always be serviced at your time and your convenience.
- ❑ Why be shocked with your Car Bills?
 - ✓ We always bill the customer before we service the car, only upon approval of the bill. So no more surprises on your car service bills.

That's the way the modern world prefers to service their cars....we'd say, gone are the days, when
YOU NEED to visit a service station for basic car servicing.

What is Franchising & How does it Work?

- ❑ Franchising is the legal right to carry out a business in accordance with a particular operational method and under a specific brand. This includes the right to use trademarks, logos, a business system, operating procedures, IT and marketing techniques.
- ❑ Franchising is like using of a toll expressway rather than chancing less direct, frequently winding and to the traveler unfamiliar with the territory, confusing roads. Expressways are well marked, have service stations in predictable locations and have toll collectors from whom advice and direction may be gained. Those attempting to travel between the same points as connected by an expressway, but using lesser roads, may not get there at all or are subject to a much broader range of estimated arrival times. If predictability of result is important to traveler, it is better to use expressways
- ❑ The best thing about franchising as a product or service distribution mechanism is that it is one of those synergistic business relationships in which all of the parties have to benefit for any of them to achieve long term success. In most cases for the franchisee to succeed, the franchisor has to do good job of providing service and equally for the franchisor to succeed, the franchisee must profit. There is no such thing as a successful franchisor that does not have successful franchisees.

Franchising Fact

- ❑ Franchising as a business model has witnessed high success rate globally. A new franchise opens every 8 minutes of each business day.
- ❑ Statistics reveal that more than 80% of new startups close down within 5 years, whereas 80% of franchisees are still successful after 5 years.
- ❑ Success stories show that franchisee startups that adhere to the franchise system and standards rarely fail.
- ❑ The idea of franchising is that there is no need of reinventing the things which are being already invented by us. If wheel is invented take from us and focus yourself on making a car.

Q. Is the franchise fee refundable? Can I pay the same in stages or defer the payment?

A. As a matter of principle, the franchise fee is non- refundable and is payable upon sign up of the agreement upfront.

Q. Will the franchise be Exclusive?

A. This Franchise will give you the license to operate from a specified location by granting you an exclusive service zone of 2 Km and a non-exclusive zone of 7 Kms.

Nobody will be allowed to service in your exclusive zone and only franchisees that have their non exclusive territories within your non exclusive zone will be allowed to service consumers within these zones.

Q. Can we invest in a second franchise?

A. Yes - once you've proven that you can manage your business successfully, you have the option of buying another franchise.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. Can I get Loans for buying the Van?

A. Most car dealerships have bank/finance counters that will help you take loans for the van and to make payments on EMI's. You could then defer your initial upfront investments in the purchase of the Vans for the period of EMI.

Q. What would be the space required for set up?

A. All you need is a home office from where you could operate. In addition you will need a parking bay to park your COZI CARS van safely. You might not be able to service certain customer's cars in their own locations due to safety or other aspects for which you could use your existing bay.

Q. What would be the space required for set up?

A. All you need is a home office from where you could operate. In addition you will need a parking bay to park your COZI CARS van safely. You might not be able to service certain customer's cars in their own locations due to safety or other aspects for which you could use your existing bay.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. Who determines the pricing?

A. The Company will decide the base prices at all locations. The franchisee will not be allowed to sell lower than the base price but could offer higher prices for their locations if their costs are higher and it does not affect an average sale of 3 Cars/Day.

Also the franchisee will have to take approvals for all institutional sales where the prices could be very different.

Q. Who does the geography selection?

A. The franchisee will select the geography from where it needs to operate and COZI CARS will do the final approval.

Q. What is the sale potential that COZI CARS offers?

A. The economics of this trade offers a great opportunity to present good value for money and quality to the sensitive Indian consumer. So far from our operational experience and expertise in analyzing market trends in the Automobile Service Industry we are able to conclude that given the scenario, COZI CARS Franchisee should be able to do 6-8 cars per day on an average and be very comfortable.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. What is our target customer? Who decides the prices for the same and how are different customers dealt with?

A. Everybody who has a car is our customer. However there are different kinds of target customers spanning different verticals like new and used car dealers, car rentals, business houses (which include hotels, passenger transportation agencies, companies in various sectors like IT, manufacturing, finance), residential societies.

We expect the franchisee to engage all of the above and get an assured supply of business. We could also offer bulk prices to larger users, which are approved by COZI CARS, but never the less is very profitable for the franchisee.

We also receive a lot of enquiries directly from corporate and institutions, which would be passed to the respective franchisee closest to the customer.

Q. What is the competition?

A. Well, the idea of servicing cars at a consumer's doorstep is in itself so unique that nobody does this in the same format. There are other cars servicing companies, whose costs of operations are much higher than us. Hence, we are uniquely positioned in this market place and are well poised to fill the gaps.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. What is the term of the agreement and what happens to the Vans, if the franchisee is not renewed once the agreement expires? Can I quit in between?

A. The agreement is for 3 years and the franchisee has the option to quit in between for any reason, by giving COZI CARS a 2-month prior notice. Thereafter the franchisee will have to erase the entire branding on the van and produce a plain van without COZI CARS name for final approval and disengagement.

Q. What would be my return on investment & payback period?

A. We expect the franchisee to break even operationally from the second month itself. Your entire investments would typically come back in 1 year. Also since this is a business unaffected by seasonality or any other things, it ensures regular income to the franchisee once they establish themselves within geography. Return on investment also depends heavily upon geographic location and the capability to manage and run your own business according to the specified standard operating procedures.

Q. What if I want to sell/transfer my franchise?

A. There's no limit placed on the resale price of a franchise. However we will need to approve the profile of the buyer only, after which you will be able to transfer/sell the franchisee, off course after paying the requisite fee.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. What about the advertisement & Promotion?

A. The company does national level advertising and promotion and expects the franchise to farm his vicinity on a personal level. There is a complete mechanism put in place based on how a franchisee needs to reach his target market effectively.

Q. What is the continuing value add that they would get from COZI CARS?

A. Location Control

- > Additional revenue source via national tie up advertising on the Van etc.
- > Multi Location Bulk Institutional Orders such as with a rental company, corporate etc.
